

DENSE BUSH bordering Stony Plain Road at 144 street will be cleared without delay by City Engineer's department, Mayor Harry Ainsworth said. Bush clearance comes as a result of strong protest from west end residents following attacks on young girls in this area recently. Heavy brush at intersection of Stony Plain Road and 144 street was where girl was recently molested by a man as yet unapprehended by police.

PLAYHOUSE BLAZE FIRES FRAME GARAGE

Fire spreading from a nearby playhouse to a frame garage caused heavy damage Tuesday afternoon.

Roof, two walls and the interior of the garage, owned by Leonard Telford, 1000 169th street and located at that address, were badly burned.

A cardboard playhouse near the garage was destroyed when ignited by flames from a pail of rubbish being burned by Telford's nine-year-old son. High wind carried the flames from the burning playhouse to the garage.

Great Slave Area Is New Ore Scene

Edmontonian Heads Group Interesting Hollinger

Rich new finds of lead, zinc and copper on the north side of Great Slave Lake are indicated in a Toronto report today.

JAMES McAVOY, Edmonton, is heading a group of young prospectors who have staked approximately 500 claims in a drill-driven area on the north shore of Great Slave Lake, 16 miles inland from McLeod Bay on Great Slave Lake.

25 CLAIMS SOLD

According to the report, McAvoy has sold 25 claims to the Hollinger Consolidated Mining Co. for a good price.

Down payment of $50,000 is to be paid each year for three successive years. In addition, the group would receive a 10 per cent royalty on a claim to be formed by Hollinger if development warrants.

Claims are staked on base metals and gold, and the deal in Toronto was concluded in Edmonton today by Conn Eliher, a northland prospector, who has 100 claims close to the McLeod Bay area.

MUCH ORE MAPPED

Eliher said that crews had mapped 1000 square miles of ore in the area last summer. Two diamond core drills, flown in by plane, worked for 35 days proving the lead.

"The area is a great one," said Mr. Eliher, told The Bulletin.

"The lead is very pure, 90 per cent copper and half an ounce of gold to the ton," he said.

Consolidated go ahead with plans to erect a smelter on Great Slave Lake, Eliher said.

If the smelter is built, a railway from the south will be built to the smelter, Eliher said.

The base metals are there," he said.

The area in which the new finds have been made is about 700 miles from the south and slightly east of Edmonton town.

The articles, valued at $100, were sold to the shop for $31.

Mayor Ainlay Was Wrong

It is a strange twist of circumstances that just after Mayor Ainlay sounded off to the policemen's banquet about the Edmonton newspapers magnifying and exaggerating crime news, a delegation of Jasper Place citizens should complain to the city commissioners about the police suppressing crime news.

But it was not the police department which up reports of young girls being attacked in Jasper Place, as this delegation charged, certainly all Edmonton will demand that something be done to minimize such offences.

One of the first essential steps is full publicity.

As W. R. May, a member of the delegation, pointed out to the commissioners, "It was unwise to keep this information from the press. We have to rely on information which filtered back to us from our children. The fact that these attacks were hushed up did not give us a chance to spot the man or to warn our children against the danger."

The entire problem of adequate police protection for the more remote sections of the city is tied up intimately with the collapse of almost every public service in Edmonton.

Police protection is inadequate in Jasper Place for exactly the same reason that the other police facilities are inadequate, that streets and sidewalks are abominable and that all Edmonton has outgrown its machinery of operation.

And that reason is that there has been no far-sighted long distance planning of Edmonton's growth.

The effort has been, not to enlarge Edmonton's facilities to fit Edmonton's population, but to constrict improvement to fit the little thinking of the administration.

The attempt to suppress the news of these attacks on children in Jasper Place is part and parcel of the alibi system that prevails in the civic block.

The administration's policy seems to be, not to solve the city's problems with courage and foresight, but to hide them away and pretend they do not exist.

Elf in the Home

SCOTT

A man who lives entirely surrounded by females develops a kind of invisible, protecting wall around him. He can't see it, but it is there. It is made of marmalade, "and for being an Elf!"

"We the Brownies, here's the game," she said in a firm voice and stuck out her left hand. "We promise to do my best; to do my duty to God and the King; to help other people every day; especially in the home," the Kid said.

I stuck out my left hand, "except Scott reporting," I announced.

"The rest of the mystery was solved when I found Brownie Owl is the operating title of the good lady who herds the moths and butterflies around the house. The toadstool appears to be the place where the recruits are sworn in. We also promised to do my best with becoming modesty, "she said.

"Then I stuck out my right hand, "except the Golden Bar," she said matter of factly, not looking up from her task.

"I am a parent and not a teacher, but feel a distinct loathing for the Golden Bar," she said like Communists inasmuch as a promise means nothing to them.

DISTRESSED.

"Then I stuck out my middle finger, "except the Golden Bar," she said matter of factly, not looking up from her task.

HERE IS THE MOST IMPORTANT STORY OF OUR GENERATION!

General EISENHOWER

writes his own story!

"CRUSADE IN EUROPE"

Here is the story everyone has awaited, the story that one man alone can tell. In his own words, with the unmistakable stamp of his personality in every sentence, General Eisenhower tells how the war looked to the man who made the life-and-death decisions in Europe.

From this great newspaper series, you'll come to know America's most universally respected man. You'll learn how it felt to send armies into crucial battle, to stand up for your views in opposition to world leaders, what it was like to deal with Stalin . . . with Darlan . . . with Churchill and De Gaulle.

For this is Dwight Eisenhower's personal story. Into it he has crammed facts hitherto untold and thrown on old ones the revealing light of his unmatched perspective. This is a straightforward story—the sort you would expect from Dwight Eisenhower. It is his way of taking you and your neighbors into the headquarters of the Supreme Allied Commander to show how, with your help, victory was achieved in one of civilization's most critical hours.

Here, truly, is must reading for every Canadian man or woman interested in the most stirring story of our times and the man who best personifies them.

NEW CRIME LAID TO VON RUNDSTEDT

LONDON, Nov. 3—(AP)—Lord Jowitt told the house of lords yesterday Field Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt, awaiting trial on war crimes charges, once ordered Allied commanders turned over to the Nazi Gestapo.

Lord Chancellor and Labor government leader in the upper chamber, Lord Jowitt said British authorities intended to start his trial in March.

He defended the government's decision to bring von Rundstedt to trial. Gen. Sir Edmund Maitland and Col.-Gen. Georg Strasser to trial. A fourth defendant, Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, died in prison last month.

Rail Rate Resentment Told Transport Board

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3—(CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners today had before it the opinion that a sentiment shared universally by the people of British Columbia is resentment over "the injustice of discriminatory freight rates."

Chris Brown, president of New Westminster board of trade—one of several such bodies appearing in support of the railroads' political beliefs—social standpoints, economic status, trade, profession or calling."

Brown told the board by various boards emphasized the present demand of "equality of status"—termed the "battle cry" of every Canadian—under prevailing rates.

Mr. Brown said the mountain difficulties and the benefits of other roads through the Rockies had operated to increase the costs of incoming supplies and outgoing products.

Counsel for the Canadian National Railway, Mr. D. D. Doherty, the board, headed by Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald, B.C. already enjoyed, were asked to comment on the rates, notably "transcontinental" rates which provide for the shipment of coal from Vancouver at a rate competing with water-borne traffic via the Panama Canal.

MAY BE RAISED

Other areas, Mr. Doherty suggested, would feel that transportation rates were discriminatory, and he indicated some rates lowered to meet the competition of the Panama canals might be raised. Under the railway, however, ways were duty bound to reduce rates only to meet competition.

Gandhi Slayer Asks For Death

Crime Said Committed For Good Of Humanity

NEW DELHI, Nov. 3—(AP)—Defense lawyers released today a statement signed by Narayan Vinayak Godse, saying he killed Mohandas K. Gandhi "purely for the benefit of humanity."

The 68-page statement invited the court now trying Godse to pass the maximum sentence of death by hanging, saying, "I do not desire my life to be spared, nor do I beg for mercy on my behalf."

ON TRIAL FOUR MONTHS

The statement was released by the defense after four months of Godse's trial. He was accused in aiding and abetting him in the Jan. 30 assassination of Gandhi, who died during a session of the court of King's bench.

Douglas Ferrell will try to save Godse, and Noel Cloutier will face jury Nov. 29 and Donald Perrault on Nov. 29.

Alleged Slayers To Be Tried Separately

MONTRÉAL, Nov. 3—(CP)—Three alleged slayers of Lord Mountbatten, who was separately for murder this month, was decided yesterday at the court of King's bench.

The statement was released by the defense after four months of Godse's trial. He was accused in aiding and abetting him in the Jan. 30 assassination of Gandhi, who died during a session of the court of King's bench.

The court said it was powdery when the prosecution announced it wished to question several more witnesses before introducing the statement.

The prosecution indicated it would be introduced at the end of the week and that Godse's statement would be introduced at the end of the month.

CLAIMS JUSTIFICATION

In his statement Godse expressed "confidence about the moral justification of his act in firing the bullet that killed the great man." He said he had no desire to "weigh my act and find the true value thereof."

He said he had been respected Gandhi's cleanliness and "before I fired the shots I actually wished him well and bowed to him in reverence."

But Gandhi's policy and action, he said, brought ruin to millions of Hindus.

St. Boniface Mayor Gets Acclamation

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3—(CP)—Major George C. MacLean of St. Boniface, Manitoba, was acclimated yesterday as nominations closed the Nov. 12 civic elections. It marked the sixth time MacLean had been elected to the office unopposed since he was first elected to the position in 1936.

MacLean and three school trustees also were re-elected by acclamation. Eight other nominees will contest three other ward aldermanic vacancies.

Trucker Dies

TORONTO, Nov. 3—(CP)—Arthur J. Johnson, 62, who entered the trucking business in 1925 with a single team of horses and built his firm of Johnson's cartage into one of the largest and most diversified companies in Canada, died yesterday. He came here from northern Ireland in 1909.

Being general manager to a theatrical producer, he produced a musical comedy called "The Jap" in 1927, which was a success. Then he started his own trucking company, and later became a trucking and hospital owner.

Johnson began three years ago with a small trucking company and expanded to 100 trucks. He was president of the profession for 17 years.

His business association with MacLean began three years ago when the latter was manager of the American Repertory Theatre. Prior to that he was with the Canadian Stage Company, and he remained with it until the end of the profession for 17 years.

Hi School Curling Discussed

First steps to organize high school curling on the north side for this winter were taken at a meeting of the High school curling committee of the Alberta Curling association at the Edmonton Curling club Tuesday night.

More than 25 students attended the meeting.

It was directed by Dr. William Swift of the Department of Education that decision was to postpone further action until it was definitely known how many rinks would be able to play each Saturday night.

LOTS OF HELP

The Alberta Avenue club is holding its six sheets available for the high school curling. The Thrill club indicated it could look after any excess over 12 rinks.

The Granite club again is pro-vocating the curling committee to students although the north side rinks have agreed to handle any overflow.

John Edwards, Edmonton club; Alex, Thistle club; Clarence Gibbs, Alberta Ave.; Knobly Clark, Granite, and Henry Gregg of the Royal also attended the meeting.

Tom Bonas, representing Jim McCool, secretary of the Alberta association, was present.

JASPER PLACE INTERESTED

The meeting was told that West Jasper Place high school was interested in entering one or two rinks in the competition if it could be found for them.

The question of girl's participation also came up and it was decided that there would just be enough room for them to do so.

The son of the subject was dropped.

TORONTO, Nov. 3—(CP)—Frankie Filchock the forward-thinking son of this football season, today became the second student to earn a trip to the port to win the Imperial Oil Trophy, awarded annually to the most outstanding player in the Ontario Rugby Football union.

The quarterback and coach of Hamilton Tigers, who swept the league schedule without a defeat, accepted his trophy, now with Orlena, from the chairman of the chute of players on his own and opposing teams for the award.

ARCHER DROPS BEAR WITH SINGLE ARROW

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3—(CP)—A modern Robin Hood, a smart man with a bow and arrow, Tuesday had bear meat for the pot.

Ollie Craigie, ex-grid and ski star, brought down a black bear with a single shot from his bow during a hunting expedition in the Cariboo country.

The archer treed the bear—an unusual occurrence—then promptly put a big broadhead arrow through its throat at 35 paces.

The bear fell almost immediately, but it sent a second to help the first.

Craigie, in his first year of archery because British Columbia open champion, was accompanied by Stan Brooks, former Alberta champion, and Ralph LeBoye, another Vancouver Bowman.

Seattle in Second Place By Topping Canucks

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3—(CP)—Seattle Ironmen Tuesday night moved into a second-place tie with the idle New Westminster Royals when they downed Vancouver Canucks 7-5 in a Pacific Coast Hockey League fixture.

With the team tied 4-4 at the end of the second period, Ken Wilson put Vancouver ahead early in the third. However, Seattle came through with three markers by Wilson, Senick and Horlock to clinch the victory.

Wilson was Vancouver's star-point-getter with three goals and one assist; Jannarelli and Wilson accounted for the other Canucks. Gillen scored twice for the visitors.

Apps Or Kennedy?

Con Mine, Yellowknife, N.W.T.
Sports Editor, The Bulletin.

Dear Sir: Would you please settle an argument and tell us who were the players on Toronto Maple Leafs' forward lines last year. Also the goals—and assists of these players.

Could you also tell us in your opinion who was the better player, Ted Kennedy or Syl Apps?

Yours truly,

Comment: Maple Leaf attacking trios were assembled as follows: Kennedy (25 goals, 21 assists), Howie Meeker (14-20), and Vic Lynn (12-22); Apps (26-27), Harry Watson (21-20) and Bill Ezinicki (11-20); Mac Bentley (26-28), Joe Robbie (15-15) and Nick Metz (4-8) or Sid Smith (7-10).

As to whether Kennedy or Apps was the better player (Apps, of course, is in retirement) there seems little doubt but what Kennedy still has a place to go before he eclipsed even the equal of Apps. For example, Apps had more goals of all the players behind him when he headed for the shelf last spring while Kennedy has put in but half this number.

Apps also has a rookie award to his credit as well as the Lyle Bing trophy. Definitely we'll have to string along with Apps, while at the same time admitting that Kennedy, still not 23 years old, has a chance to become one of the all-time greats before he's through.

You can Please Some Of The People . . .

The readership of the Standard-Journal, I am requested at Regina Cope's Gus Kyle for his insistence on interrupting the Cap-Flyer game in the Arena last Saturday. Kyle spent most of the night questioning the decisions of referee Sam and Davidson. "Gabby Gus" we called Mr. Kyle.

"I was trying to put on a show," J.D. derides. "You newspapermen don't recognize good copy when you see it. I enjoyed Kyle all the way."

Not so! "Option Holder (and proud of it)." He writes.

Dear Sir: Allow me to congratulate you on your point of view in regard to Gus Kyle. It is to those who use bus and street cars to get back home from the Arena are late enough as it is under ordinary circumstances.

"But it was close to midnight when I arrived home Saturday and I could only blame Kyle for my late arrival. I am going to argue all the time why doesn't he join the Lyle Society?"

Comment: It's agreed that when a player is appointed captain of a team the intention is that he look after its best interests in the matter of referees' decisions and the like. However even Leo (The Lip) Durkin, the most astute sportsman-hai of all time, knew when to put it on and take it off with the man who was making the decisions.

In other words he didn't "make a career of it" as Gus Kyle tried to.

That Argument Again

Wetaskiwin, Oct. 26.

Sports Editor, Bulletin.

Sir: For some time now as each hockey season arrives we hear much talk as to which is the better league, the Western Canada or Pacific Coast.

It seems to me the persons who could answer this best are the players who have played in both. So please . . . how about an article interviewing some like Bathgate, Kreller, Smitten, Pringle and Chvotchek and letting us outsiders in on what they think of the situation.

Yours truly,

C. R. Smith
Comment: Hope you caught our yarn in the section which hit the streets a number of days ago. Bathgate, Kreller and the others failed to find much to choose between the circuits, although the consensus seemed to give the WCHL a slight edge because of greater reserve strength.

A follower of the Sport of Kings takes us to task because of a Monday reference to Air Cadet, Cedet's useful five-year-old.

Says our pen pal: "Why don't you sports writers ever get anything right? Air Cadet never ran in a race where the claiming price was $15,000 as you try to make it sound like he was running—yes—but at a price more like $3,000 or $5,000."

Comment: The man is right, confirmation coming from Owing Williams himself. At the same time the man who also pays the feed bills for Franks Mistake, Alberta Derby winner, and more stock supplies the information that Air Cadet's "take" so far this season is nudging $5,000. No, he doesn't particularly want to get rid of his star.

Fritzie Zivic Plans Barnstorming Tour

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Fritzie Zivic, the battered former welterweight boxing champion who has quit the ring at least three times for good, Tuesday basted about with plans for a barnstorming fight tour.

Zivic, one of the most fantastically curved noses in ring history, hopes to take off on a coast-to-coast tour next month in his own trailer. He'll head southward, seeking fights wherever they can be found.

WHEN THERE'S LIFE

"I don't expect to fight very long," he adds. "It's the insurance companies that are getting me." Zivic, 32, has got a deal lined up to sell insurance here in Pittsburgh.

Zivic said his first fight will be in Milwaukee, at Al Reid, the soul of the city.

The Pittsburgh fighter has his first bout set for Dec. 18, at the Civic Auditorium. Thursday in November when he got a draw with Eddie Steele, of Atlanta, the tall, lanky fighter had to back out when he got a splintered toe. He had to sit out the remainder of the year, though he won the welterweight title in 1940 from Henry Armstrong. He lost the crown two years later to Red Cochran.

TWISTED TRACKS CONFUSING

Racing in Britain Just Plain 'Screwy'

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—

British racing is plain screwy in Britain.

They call it "flat racing" to but it really isn't on the level.

They're gently rolling turf with

Neuman Comes Back To Vanquish McGill

By Dick Beddoes

A wrestler known as Lou

The Lou, who wears Neuman

In whipping McGill, Larriup'

CBC To Defer Action On Television Applications

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—(CP)—A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC board of governors, announced today that the board has decided to defer action on applications for television broadcasting-station licences.

Mr. Dunton said the CBC will begin an immediate study of the possibilities of developing television on a national basis. The board has been unanimous in the CBC's establishing television stations and operate them on a co-operative basis with private stations.

He said it would be three or four months before the board's policy on television is again reviewed.

CANCELLATION URGED

The board, in a series of recommendations urged that the licence of station CJDC in Dawson Creek be cancelled.

The board said its operations in a manner likely to be in the public interest.

The licence is held by Miss Wilma Moore, her partner in the station, W. B. Michaud, asked the board last week to cancel the licence because of Miss Moore's alleged interference with the operations of CJDC.

The board said that its recommendations had been recommended the cancellation of a private radio station's licence.

Ottawa Surplus Near Estimate

Year-End Spending To Cut Present Cash, Says Abbott

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said today that the government's experts have estimated that the 1948-49 surplus will not diverge "by any very large amount" from this year's budget forecast of $150,000,000.

He indicated the surplus might range between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000. In defense of the government's policy of budgeting for surpluses in "good" times, he said, "according to present plans," the蒙特利尔 Citizen said to day in a front-page special news dispatch from Ottawa.

The story noted that Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent had been asked to defer his arrival back in Ottawa from London this weekend.

It was not much of a mystery of deferral as a constitutional obstacle that stood in the way of Mr. St. Laurent, instead of Mr. King, appeared to be the lack of an external affairs minister and making that move known just before Mr. King left for London on Oct. 29.

"Similarly, appointments to the senate, to the tariff board, to the international joint commission and to the cabinet itself are held up until Mr. St. Laurent actually becomes prime minister," he added.

In the transport department and almost invariably are accepted.

Recommended for ratification were applications for radio stations W. B. Michaud, Allentown, N.S., and Gordon S. Henry, former manager of station CJCA, Dawson Creek.

The board said that on the basis of information submitted, it was of no service to the station at Dawson Creek.

The board's action marked the first time that it has recommended the cancellation of a private radio station's licence.

Two appointments were announced today by Canadian National Railway.

They are those of F. C. Fraser, formerly of Vancouver, as district car foreman, and G. M. Burke, formerly of Port Arthur, as master mechanic of Edmonton division office.

Mr. Fraser succeeds C. D. Brown, who retired Oct. 31. He was formerly car foreman at Calder until being transferred to Vancouver about a year ago as district car foreman.

City Motorist Draws Fine

Complaints of a dangerous driver charge brought a fine of $400 against T. Miller, Dornfeld before Magistrate A. T. Miller. Dornfeld pleaded guilty to the charge after the vehicle he was driving skidded around a corner near Jasper Avenue Monday morning.

Two persons pleading guilty on intoxication charges were fined $30 or six weeks, and $20 or 30 days, respectively.

Charles Calhoun and Agnes LaRocca, no fixed address, were convicted following arrest. Both the $400 objective.

Police Seek Three Persons in Edmonton

City police are asking press assistance to locate three persons for whom inquiries are being made here.

Presumably looking for an old "buddy" from the First World War named John Miller, 30, of 1000 1/2 St. and 88 St., Island of 588 Doverscourt Road, Toronto, Ont.

Calhoun says that Stevens first came to Canada prior to 1914 from Leighton Buzzard, England, and returned to the United States.

Stevens, he thinks, might be engaged in agricultural work in the vicinity of Edmonton, or possibly between Edmonton and Calgary.

Also in Toronto, Mrs. May Lloyd, 1107 1/2 St., is searching for her grandson, Lloyd Stevens, thought to be in Edmonton.

Mrs. Lloyd, in her letter to police here, stated she was clinging and hoping for news.

A sealed envelope addressed to Herbert Tebent was enclosed in a letter from Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McPherson, 117 Springdale Avenue, Youngstown, Ohio, in which the husband, a former resident of Alberta, is trying to locate him and he is thought to be in Edmonton.

Calhoun, however, indicated that any information concerning the whereabouts of these persons be forwarded to police.

Farmers Meet

CALGARY, Nov. 3 (CP)—About 300 delegates representing farmers in the province gathered here yesterday for an annual meeting of United Grain Growers Ltd. Sam Sezen, at the general manager of the company, and MacLean, of the University of Manitoba, BUILDING BRIDGES comes easy for Jack Landry, who worked on trails before coming to the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton. Vancouver when the Grand Trunk Pacific was going through to the coast in 1910-11. Here he sharpens ends of huge piles used for carrying false bridge across river.

SASKATCHEWAN RIVER gravel from far below river bottom is being dredged out and carried along preparing way for concrete pier on new Low Level bridge. Crane swings wooden buckets filled with mud and sand out of coffer dam and dumps in river with big splash.

PNEUMATIC DRILLS chatter as drillers square off west face of north pier on Low Level. First pier for new bridge will join solidly with the old bridge pier. New bridge span will likely be completed for traffic by the late spring.

STEAM, ELECTRICITY and gasoline plus some human muscle power combine in the effort at work on Edmonton's new Low Level bridge. Two large drag lines are operating and a number of smaller machines help out. Big job should all be completed by late spring, said Charlie Barber is in charge of Poole Construction Co. Ltd. work of putting in concrete piers.

5 Grape Varieties Sell at Low Prices

By Bee Thrift

Grape Don't the fruits taste good! But I'm so tickled to have fresh tomatoes at a mere 19¢ per pound, after spending 55¢ for the same quantity just last weekend, that I can successfully ignore the chilly winds.

Then, of course, that's lettuce at 13¢ to 15¢ per head, grapes in half dozen different varieties, selling for a song:

Lend o'Goshen, I bought a dime's worth of grapes to much at the typewriter... and I carried a tremendous amount away from the store. Some varieties are sailing for 1¢ per pound... good eatin'.

There are long, thin green ones for 2½¢ per pound... and are these delicious? ... I say, I think so. And I say, since we've had this variety in grapes... and I'm loving every delicious morsel.

So old husband will be subjected to a trifling of stuffed tomatoes.

Often, men aren't too partial to "non-nose food"... but, once you train them and they get used to it, Tangy 'Vittles' can be... like clear sailing for you my pretty.

It's a crying shame to cover that pretty wood of your dining table with a full tablecloth when place mats make a far more attractive.

Many young couples just haven't been able to manage their set up until now. They have a set of with a set of pretty pottery ware. Here, especially, is where place mats do a royal job.

You can buy them, make them, for varying costs.

Second woman: "Oh, it's been a long time. I imagine at least three years ago. This character in my play is one of those who literally speak with a bottle, waspily harp and spouted collar showing carelessness."

First woman: "I'm sure we were such fine friends before our marriage. Should I continue to drink as we have but you can't say I didn't try." All these times, she has been trying to wean him from pockmarked chin and great wealth is indicated by the clothes or jewelry.

Second woman: "How many years has it been?"

First woman: "Oh, it's been over two hours long in daytime. Maybe he doesn't want to sleep that long and would go to bed earlier if he could."

When you put him in bed sing to him, or read a repetitive Mother Goose story to him, to keep his attention and helping him to relax.

Give decreasing amounts of milk to him. After a week or two weeks there will be just an ounce or so to be taken from this time.

Just don't stick him in his crib and go off, demanding that he go to sleep. Put him in the moon for sleep, and then ease yourself off the moon. I never believe Mitchell, of 10040 142 street.

The woman who remains interested in varied activities is the one who can expect to remain as attractive as Actress Adele Jergens, above:

WHY GROW OLD

Interest in Hobbies Keeps Women, Young

By Josephine Lowman

Here is a conversation I could not help overhearing the other day while on a bus:

First woman: "Imagine way! It's not only nice to see you again." (This lady is very alive. Her figure is youthful and she is groomed well.) "I have a new hobby, too. I have a set of pretty pottery ware. Here, especially, is where place mats do a royal job."

swim and paint but I just could not find time with children."

First woman: "I don't see how you find time, but I imagine you must be very busy."

Second woman: "Indeed not. We cannot afford it. I haven't had a new hobby since we got married."

Second woman: "That's wonderful! Mary, you haven't changed a bit. You look as young as when I first met you."

Second woman: "Really? How have you gotten along with your first woman: "Well as well as I have. I have a real interest in pottery. I have two of my pictures at the museum this year though. That's about all I have time for."

First woman: "Should I join the art class? I am so sorry you did not join the art class."

Second woman: "I'm sure you'll be a good artist, but you have much more natural talent than I."

Second woman: "I wanted to attend art school but I just can't afford it."

If the hole you are mending in a sweater is large reinforce it with tape. This forms a foundation for knitting and prevents from pockmarking. If the knitting has started to "ladder", reknit the stitches with a crochet hook before applying the tape.

In my search for wife, I wanted to buy a new dress. I visited a specialty shop and found a new item of figurines.

This is a combination of Chinese, but this time of colored pottery. The colors show the elegance of the pottery. It is sold in sets of 12, 25 and 35 dollars, larger, still for $3.50 and $5.

It is a large, beautiful piece of preserved ginger. This will set you back a whole $1.50 per pound... but it's worth it.

New Closets For Youngsters

Parents who have been sharing cramped drawer and closet space with their offspring will welcome the appearance of a new "childroom".

This is a combination closet and chest of drawers to suit a small child.

The closet section has an easy-to-reach panel to encourage a junior to reach up and get his own clothes. Four drawers on the other side plus a long drawer across the top provide space for laundry, games, etc.

After a child outgrows the nursery, his chest of drawers can be converted into a set of drawers for two more adult blouses, jackets and other clothes.

Another feature of this carefully-constructed household is a prefabricated efficiency cabinet.

These closets are size in standard widths and heights.

They are styled so that they may be used separately or in combination.

Shelves and rods are adjustable to varying tones of storage requirements. A small step stool is required to assist a child in reaching up.

Jobs With United Nations Give Chance to See World

PARIS—(O.N.S.A.)—Sixteen young American girls who are employed by the United Nations in "the future of young people all over the world" have come to Paris, many of them at their own expense, to work for the U.N. for at least half the salary they could get back home.

The alertness of these girls, plus their tremendous interest in their jobs, has been noted from the feminine workers at the Palais de Chaillot.

"Two of them, at least, it is a chance to learn how French people live. Babs Schleffelin, of Almonton, N.J., and Linda Baskin, of Brooklyn, N.Y., share a room in a house of a French family.

It didn't take them long to find out that a salary of 120 francs a day (about $4), which is their average salary, is not enough. French secretaries expect what the U.N. pays them, doesn't go any further than rent, food and surface.

The girls are equally convinced that "it's our future," the future of young people all over the world which is at stake today.

a certain apathy toward the work of the U.N.

But they are equally convinced that "it's our future," the future of young people all over the world which is at stake today.

YOUNGEST Prime ballerina in Europe, 16-year-old Lydia Prym, is in Canada 4 weeks ago and is living at home with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Prym, 11127 96 street. Enthusiastic about Canada, this attractive blonde plans a concert tour of the country, and will make her Edmonton debut Nov. 13 at the Macdonald Temple. —Photos by Blund.

GRACEFUL REASON why Miss Prym won wide acclaim in Europe is seen in figure of a classic ballet. Horn in Lviv, Ukraine, the daughter of a noted professor of music, she began to study ballet there at the age of five, and made her stage debut at fourteen.

LIGHT-HEARTED MOOD of old Vienna is captured in this Viennese waltz. Making her solo debut at the age of 16, Miss Prym later attended the Vienna Academy of Music and Fine Arts, where she received her diploma with high honors. As prima ballerina of the state theatre, she gave more than 100 concerts in major Swiss and Austrian cities last year.

EXOTIC MUSIC of Debussy's Egyptian Danse Sacree is brought to life by Miss Prym in one of her most successful dramatic interpretations. Her performance in Winnipeg, enroute to Edmonton, created such an impression that she has been asked to join the Winnipeg ballet for several concerts.

Increased Tram Fares Said Needed

Bankruptcy Faces Companies Association Meeting Told

CALGARY, Nov. 3—(CP)—W. H. Furlong, president of the Canadian Transit Association, said last night that a clause of increased fare structures or bankruptcy faces a large number of transit companies across the dominion.

"A few of our members have already raised fares to take care of increased costs of maintaining corporate smooth," Mr. Furlong said in an address read to delegates attending the western regional meeting of the organization here yesterday. "There is no doubt that more will do so in the future if fares go into bankruptcy."

The statement was read to the meeting by Mr. V. W. Wear, superintendent of the Canadian transit system, on behalf of Mr. Furlong who was unable to attend. Mr. Furlong is chairman of the Kitchener-Sydenham and Amherstburg railway of Ontario.

H. W. Green-Hughes, public relations manager of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Company, repeated Mr. Furlong's warning in an address before the 130 delegates attending the three-day gathering.

Mr. Queen-Hughes said "sandpaper" was starting to appear in the fare suggested one solution to the problem might be in creating zone-fare systems as is prevalent in Europe.

A. G. Johnston, Calgary chartered accountant, was appointed permanent liquidator under the federal act and W. A. McCullivray was appointed solicitor for the liquidation.

Mr. Johnston said his office would be at 100 Stephen Avenue in the Exchange Building.

Mr. Martin said 14 boys were picked on three days as the field in the 41st International six-day bike race drew lighter.

Smith, who earlier had lost his team, the Jeannine Mandana of Ottawa, part of the Canadian Transvaal Transvaal when the Australian's partner, veteran Torrey Peck, was unable to compete in the mountain, the pace and dropped out. Peders was winner of 38 previous six-day races.

Smith-Henry-Haynes combination won the leading Haynes-Westmount team of Cesare Moretti and Renzo Ciri by five laps.
